Illiteracy must be swept away, and this can be accomplished only by stringent laws compelling parents to send their children to the public schools. Every citizen receives the benefit of the enlightened condition which comes from the prevalence of public schools. They are the strongest element of our civilization, and any individual or organization, political or religious, hostile the system, should be stamped as anti-Republican, anti-American and anti-everything else dear to the heart of every patriotic American citizen. The first lesson of the schools should be the duty the individual owes to the state. Political independence should early be impressed on the mind of the pupil. Education is not a luxury to be privately enjoyed, but a necessity to be publicly supported. Intelligence and morality are fast becoming the standard by which man's social position is determined. Educate the child so that he can enter politics an independent man and then our political demagogues will cease to exist; there will be less partisan feeling and politics will be greatly purified. Make the school house the temple of liberty, patriotism and honesty and from every temple of learning let the stars and stripes float out on the breeze. That flag is significant of our existence as a nation, for each red stripe was dyed by the blood of the son of God as it fell drop by drop from the rude cross on which he was scourged and crucified; each white stripe was bleached by the tears of the widows and orphans of "those old farmers, who embattled stood and fired the shot heard round the world;" while each bright star has struggled through the gloom of centuries. Ignorance, the arch fiend of all progress would tear down that flag with all its hallowed associations and plant in its place the fiery insignia of anarchy. Education is the pillar upon which our nation rests and from the 180,000 school houses the inspired voice of triumphant democracy leaps exultingly to the skies. Our nation is a partnership not only between the living but between the living and the dead and the living and those yet to be born. Let us be a nation of intelligent men and women. Let us weld together the interests of this great people in one common tie by advocating that there should be but one flag, but one government and but one God. With such a union the right will prevail and the herald of justice, love and truth shall proclaim to an enlightened people "Peace on earth, good will among men."

The address was liberally applauded at the close.

Miss Laura Shaffer gave the class prophecy, in which in a humorous manner she predicted what would become of the '94 class and what stations in life the members would be occupying 25 years hence. The paper was well read. In conclusion Miss Shaffer said that the class was the architect of its own fortune: that the measure of success which would fall to its members would be that which they deserved as a reward for tireless energy and intelligently directed work. "It is not rank, nor birth, nor state, but 'git and git' that makes men great." The fair prophetess was warmly applauded for her wit and sentiment.

The closing feature of the very excellent entertainment was the series of ten "Charcoal Sketches" given on large sheets of manilla paper by Charles M. Auer, who is probably the best amateur caricaturist Decatur can boast of to-day. The black line pictures he drew, coupled with side remarks made by the young man, provoked general merriment, particularly among the members of the faculty and the graduates, though unfortunately for the class they were not in a position to see the pictures. Mr. Auer is quite an artist and is wonderfully proficient with the pencil.

Everybody got home by 10 o'clock. They were glad they had been at the Grand. They will come again on commencement day, June 15th.

A PITCHED BATTLE

Between a Handful of Armed Deputy Sheriffs

AND HUNDREDS OF STRIKING MINERS.

The Deputies Sent to Rescue Four Captured Officers are Fired Upon by the Mob—Several of the Rioters Arrested.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 11.—A battle between seven armed deputies and a mob of 300 strikers occurred yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the Lemont No. 3 works of the McClure Coke Co. One striker, a Slav, was killed instantly, and two other Slav strikers were fatally wounded. The deputies were surrounded and fired upon by the strikers before they shot.

The incidents leading up to the battle began Saturday evening, when a mob of several hundred strikers, mostly from the Trotter works of the Frick company, gathered at the depot at New Haven and took prisoners four workmen who are employed at the Valley works of the Frick company and were on their way home at Leisenring. The names of the workmen are John Delaney, Oliver Attleby, John Britt and John Furlough. When they stepped of the train the mob surrounded them and marched them away. The four men were covered over with chalk and big placards with "scab," "blackleg" and other epithets lettered thereon. The men were then marched through the streets escorted by the hooting mob and taken to the Trotter and Leisenring plants, where they were paraded through the streets between the company houses. The strikers jeered them and the women spit upon them and hit them with stones and clubs. They were even marched past their own homes, and their wives and children permitted to view them in their disgraceful condition.

Sheriff Wilhelm dispatched Deputy Sheriff Allen with seven deputies to rescue the workmen. Allen arrived at 6 o'clock. At no time was he able to overtake the mob having the men in charge. Allen finally learned that the men were being passed from mob to mob. It was found that the four men had been taken to Morrell, and from there to Youngstown, and then to Lamont, where the battle occurred.

Early yesterday morning, after placing deputies to prevent the strikers from taking their prisoners elsewhere, Allen returned to Uniontown for further orders and was directed to rescue the prisoners. Returning to Lemont, he found the deputies retreating before a howling mob of Slavs. As Allen rode up a Slav fired his revolver at Allen. The bullet passed over his head. Several of the mob then began firing on the officers. Allen's revolver was defective and only two shot were fired by him. Five of his assistants came up and began firing with their Winchesters. About fifty shots were exchanged, the mob slowly advancing, the deputies retreating, until reinforced by other deputies, when a stand was made. The mob then began to disperse. Sheriff Wilhelm was again notified and sent thirteen more deputies. An hour later, twelve of the mob were arrested and brought to jail.

The Slav that was shot was found lying in the road shot through the body by a Winchester ball. Two others were found in houses near by, both said to be mortally wounded, having been shot through the thighs. The strikers refused to give the name of the Slav killed or of those injured. They wanted the officers to take the dead striker with them when making arrests. One of the men arrested was shot in the arm.

At 4 o'clock a special train brought ten more deputies to Lemont and then took the wounded men to the hospital at Connellsville. Many others are believed to have been wounded. None of the deputies were injured.

At 5 o'clock a posse of twenty-five deputies in charge of Field Deputies Allen, Allebaugh and Richards, armed with search warrants, left for Cool Spring Hollow after searching the Lemont houses. It is believed the four workmen were taken during the trouble and are hidden away in the mountains. The posse will rescue the four men at all hazards.

Several hundred strikers live in the vicinity of Cool Spring and a conflict may occur. They have not returned or been heard from. Sheriff Wilhelm said last night that he would not ask for the militia on account of yesterday's trouble. He says he is growing heartily tired of the warfare, but so long as his deputies are not overpowered will fight away in attempting to maintain peace and order. Several hundred arrests are expected to follow for the kidnaping of the men.

MRS. CLEVELAND and the children were carried part of the way to Gray Gables in the Benedict yacht. Mr. Benedict, who owns the yacht which is always at the service of President Cleveland, is one of the leading members of the sugar trust in whose interest the tariff bill has been shaped. That Grover should accept these courtesies from Mr. Benedict at this time shows that he has not fallen out with that gentleman on account of the sugar trust.

REPRESENTATIVE Hopkins, of Aurora, who is home on a brief visit, says: "The Democrats have shown an utter incapacity to conduct the affairs of the government. I doubt if any half dozen Democratic members of the two houses can fully agree upon a measure affecting the welfare of the country. In their desperate effort to pass some kind of tariff bill the Democrats are utterly unscrupulous in the bargains and trades they make with parties whose support they seek. The sugar schedule, as was demonstrated by Senator Sherman in his speech the other day, was prepared by an expert in the sugar trust. If Brice, Gorman & Co. can bring the support of the Democratic party to this schedule it will place millions of dollars in the pocket of Havemeyer & Co., taken from the pockets of the laboring classes. The manner in which the sugar interest has manipulated this tariff bill is a shame and disgrace, and if it is enacted into law is enough in itself to damn for all time the Democratic party.

WE do not know what the situation in Cook county is, so far as the Republican party is concerned, but if the Chicago Tribune has sufficient evidence to warrant it in making the assertion it does in the following paragraph then it has spoken well and prophetically.

"We will elect a county ticket in Cook by a majority of 15,000," said the hopeful, enthusiastic T. N. Jamieson, secretary of the Republican state committee, at Springfield Thursday. That depends on the kind of ticket that will be put up. The Republicans cannot elect a ticket of spavined and blemished and worn out political hacks by 15,000 or any other majority. Even a good ticket, in which all sections of the party are represented by their very best men, can only be elected by a harmonious and united party. But we cannot have a harmonious and united party if Mr. Jamieson's friends continue to abuse, traduce and belittle as good Republicans as they are, to say the least. Will Mr. Jamieson make a mental note of the fact?

The Effect of a Gold Standard.

The Charleston News and Courier solemnly asks, "Are we to have 5-cent cotton?" and the Atlanta Constitution very pertinently demands to know, "Are we to have a gold standard?" The true answer to the first question will be found in an answer to the second. The gold standard has already cost the farmers of the country $600,000,000 by the way of shrinkage in the market value of their crops and of this sum the cotton growers have contributed something like $100,000,000. Keep the gold standard in effect long enough and 5-cent cotton will come soon enough to keep company with 50-cent wheat. It is not that silver has "gone down" but that gold has "gone up" which has caused so much disaster to the price of grain and produce. Geo. W. Fithian, candidate for congress in this district, believes in free silver and better prices. Benson Wood is a gold bug. Which will you take?—Paris Gazette.

This is a sample of the rot the farmers and others are to be treated to in the ensuing campaign by the same demagogues who have for years been preaching fool theories that can have no other purpose than the deception of some unthinking people. The farmer, whose products have depreciated in value, because his home market has been crippled, through the return of the Democratic party to power, and the laboring-man, who has lost his job for the same reason, is to be regaled with the doctrine that his ills are all due to a scarcity of a circulating medium.

If this were true why should any reasonable man vote for any Democrat for any office? That party has been in power since March 4, 1893, and since then a Democratic congress has been in session nine months, and if there was anything wrong with the finances of the country, and it has failed to remedy the defects and give the people more money, if they need it, then that party should be turned out of power forever.

But the facts are that campaign rot and Democratic action are two widely different things. In a campaign the demagogue-campaigner and the Democratic newspaper can howl about a gold standard and fool some people and get their votes, but the Democratic legislator has to confront the cold fact that the country has had a gold standard since January 1, 1879, when the resumption act took effect, and behind that the fact that when we had a depreciated currency everything the farmer or laboring-man bought or sold was measured by a gold standard. When wheat and corn and oats and labor were sold for 50 cent dollars the proceeds went for calico and other merchandise that cost twice as much, measured by the 50 cent dollar, as the same articles cost when they were measured by the real dollar.

But notwithstanding this fact, well known to people of ordinary good judgment, these demagogues prate about a gold standard, as if it were a continual source of robbery of the people and as if some other standard would be a relief to the people. They are careful, however, never to state what standard they prefer. They leave that to be determed by those whom they seek to deceive. There can be but one measure of value, and they know it, and that measure is gold, which has the same value the world over. This of itself disposes of the falsity of the statement that "it is not that silver has gone down, but that gold has gone up," meaning that it has gone up in this country. Gold is no higher in this country than it is any other country.

On this point, take the same blatherskites when they talk about the tariff, and they tell the farmer that the price of his products are fixed by the market in Liverpool. If they are correct in this assumption then they lie about gold having gone up in this country, for if prices are fixed in Liverpool for the American farmers' product then that value is measured by the gold standard of Great Britain, and ten dollars of American gold is worth ten dollars in Liverpool, and they have never been less than that at home. It is time that men ceased to listen to these bawling shysters. What troubles us in this country now is the party in power, which by its infamous and un-American policies has destroyed the demand for labor and the American farmers' home market, and if the circulating medium of the country were doubled in 24 hours it would not restore the market for labor or farm produce, and the man without labor, and without a market, could not get a dollar of the money on a fair exchange. When the Republicans had power there was no trouble about a market, or about work, and both the farmer and the laborer got his money when the goods were delivered.

Auer, Jennie W. Baldridge, Violet Bourne, Fannie A. Bivans, valedictorian, Lulu M. Beall, Ella M. Buchert, Edith Beamer, William Buchanan, Byron E. Bramble, Wilbur Corman, vice president, Annie R. May, Leon Mitchell, Nellie Geneva Pratt, Thomas W. Pitner, Carrie A. Record, scholarship, Max C. Ruehl, Lida A. Sawyer, Laura Laura Shaffer, Sallie Shaffer, Maude M. Stoy, Fred Schroll, Rosa Voelcker, Mabel Wayne and Roy R. Wilson, who when the services began entered the church by twos and were ushered to the pews. The class day decorations were used at the church, and the class motto, "Ante Oculos Plus Est," was above the platform. Printed programs of the service were used and were taken away as souvenirs. There was a voluntary number by the orchestra, directed by Prof. Walter; invocation by C. B. Turner, secretary of the Springfield Y. M. C. A.; gloria patri by the choir; hymn, "Come, Thou Almighty King;" responsive reading led by Mr. Turner; anthem, "Lead Us, Heavenly Father," by the choir; prayer by the pastor; hymn, "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy," offertory by the orchestra; solo, "Thy Will be Done," by R. W. Chilson.

THE ADDRESS.

Rev. Mr. Miller selected for his text part of the ninth verse of the 36th Psalm, "In Thy Life we Shall see Light," on which he built an address full of encouragement, promise, hope and inspiration for the young people who will receive their diplomas Friday morning next. The thoughts presented were clothed in beautiful language and the illustrations of the points were apt and conclusive. It is not in things material that we find all knowledge, but in God we see the light. In the young lives just closing the school course there is some realization of what light is. There are three things with which we have to do in life. The first is to have an object; the second is the use of the faculties given us, and the third is the application of those faculties to correct living and principles for the developement of character. We find beauty in the tree and its foliage, and we see the principles of art in the statue. In the class room there are two chief points—the principles of education and character and the problem of life, and the crowning aim is a noble manhood or womanhood. Culture is the fatherhood of a scholarly sonship. The son takes the torch of light and culture from the father and if it is carried faithfully the evolution of light and knowledge is developed and enlarged. Some who have graduated in the past have thrown down the torch, and have devoted their time only to an exercise of the heel and toe, or to a certain movement of the fingers. Remember with all the intensity of your intellectual capacity that in His life you will find your grandest motive. Hold on to the torch. There is no distinction between the girl mind and the boy mind. Some will ask you if you have read Butler's analogy. We rejoice to know that some members of this class are going to Vassar or Smith. It is so easy to throw aside the torch in giving way to business and social forces, but do not stop in the search for light. Let this class immortalize itself by forming a reading circle in the pursuit of knowledge, regardless of cards or other social customs. You are to-day better qualified to meet and match the graduates who have gone before, because they have thrown down the torch. Out of the old must come the new. The greatest attainment in life is the greatness of individual character that will meet the highest and greatest opportunities. We must prepare ourselves to meet the great opportunities on a level. We must go back to the old idea of reading. There is very little hard, solid, intense reading in Decatur. It is very easy to pick up Shelley or Goethe, read them, and then write an essay, but it's another matter to rightly understand them—to bring out the new. You must be something before you can do something. We must be before we can utter. It is easy to fall below the medium in life. There remains a crown for all, but it cannot be attained without the light and purity. After we gain all there is in life there is still wanting that which is better than all else, which can come only from the One who bore the cross. The true way in which to study the light and truths of life is to study God in the light which streams from the cross.

The service closed by singing the hymn, "The Day, O Lord, is spent," the pastor pronouncing the benediction.

Rev. Wm. A. Passavant, D. D.

The many friends of Dr. Passavant will regret to learn that he entered into his rest Sunday evening (3rd) at his home in Pittsburg, Pa., aged 73 years.

Dr. Passavant was one of the greatest benefactors of the Lutheran church in America. He devoted the self-sacrificing labors of 50 years to works of pure Christian benevolence.

He was the founder of the "Deaconess Work" in America, his work antedating that of his friend, Rev. W. A. Muhlenberg, D. D., of the Episcopal church. He was an important factor in founding the "Emigrant House," at New York, in which poor emigrants are sheltered, cared for, and aided in reaching their destination. He founded and brought into successful operation, hospitals at Pittsburg, Pa., Chicago, Milwaukee, Wis., and Jacksonville, Ill., and Orphan's Homes at Zelienople, Pa., and Rochester, N. Y. He was also identified with a number of other institutions of like character.

Besides founding Thiel College at Greenville, Pa., he succeeded, after 25 years of persevering labor, in establishing the Evangelical Lutheran Seminary at Lake View, Chicago, of which R. F. Weidener, D. D., is principal.

He founded the Pittsburg Synod, nearly 50 years ago, and was largely instrumental in organizing the Canada, Wisconsin, Michigan, Texas and Indiana synods, and was one of the founders of the General Council of the Evan. Luth. church.

He was deeply interested in all the missionary operations of the church, and the great work the Lutheran church in America is doing in the home and foreign fields, and her deep interest in educational and benevolent work, is largely due to his labor and influence.

Dr. Passavant was very conscientious in his acceptance of gifts for the benevolent institutions founded by him. They had to be given from proper motives, or secured by commendable means. He absolutely refused, on several occasions, to accept the proceeds of a "charity ball," amounting to several thousand dollars, offered him for the benevolent work in his hands. He utterly repudiated and detested the theory that the end sanctifies the means.

All the institutions founded by him are model institutions of mercy. All classes, creeds and conditions are admitted and ministered to in the name and for the sake of Him who had compassion on the afflicted multitude.

As a preacher he was brilliant, attracting and swaying large congregations, captivating the most cultured and the most unlearned. As a pastor he was beloved by all. As an editor he had rare ability, writing so as to reach and interest the people. He rests from his labors and his works will long live in the church he so dearly loved, and for which he so faithfully labored.

It Is For Libraries.

In all the best schools of the country it is found desirable to have a reference library in every school. For some years we have been trying to do this in Decatur. But good books cost money and owing to the constant demands for new buildings it has been impossible for the board of education to make appropriations for this purpose. Now the teachers and pupils have prepared the entertainment to be given on Monday and Tuesday evenings next at the opera house. I am assured that it will be a very pleasant affair. As every cent of the proceeds will go for the purchase of books for our libraries, I trust that our citizens will show their appreciation of this object by a liberal purchase of tickets.

Prof. G. D. Edmondson, the celebrated optician at the Hotel Brunswick, opposite the Opera house, has fitted another most wonderful case. Mr. E. V. Schaick, residing at Grayville, White county, Ill., was born blind, he had never seen a letter. He did not know one when he saw it, until he had traced its shape with his fingers and judged it by the raised letters he was accustomed to read with his fingers. It is not necessary to say he was delighted. In one hour he had learned nearly all his letters so he could call them without tracing. Edmondson leaves next Saturday night for his summer vacation in the north during July and August. 11 d3 w1

ALL QUIET AT PANA.

Chicago Crack Regiment in Camp at the Mining Town.

Visit of a "Republican" Reporter to the Scene—Militia and Citizens Ready for the Invasion—Miners at Work To-Day—Strikers in Camp Four Miles Away to be Dispersed—No Immediate Prospect of Trouble.

[Special to the REPUBLICAN.]

PANA, June 11—The reports contained in the Chicago Sunday papers were so lurid that the people of Illinois at once made up their minds that Pana was a veritable storm center. The REPUBLICAN reporter who invaded the town this morning fully expected to meet gory corpses at every turn, or lacking that essential of warfare, some other token to show that the correspondents had been earning their salaries.

Everything was quiet, distressingly so. The belated fragments of the First regiment, 85 officers and men, reached Pana this morning and were marched to camp. The only indication of trouble was the armed guards which were stationed at the coal mines. A dozen or more armed with formidable Sharpe rifles and ugly double-barreled shot guns, lounged about each of the three shafts. They were wide awake, too, as the reporter found to his cost. He was obliged to give his complete family tree and a good excuse for living, before he was allowed to pass the lines. It was expected that trouble would arise this morning when the whistles blew for work, but it did not materialize. The striking miners huddled in groups at a at a respectful distance from the mines and sullenly watched the streams of coal rushing down the shutes. About 200 men reported and probably 50 teams went to work loading slack. Last night about 12 o'clock a number of shots were heard in the vicinity of the Pana coal mine. The militia were turned out in line of battle and the deputies and soldiers' patrol rushed to the scene of action. Not a dead or live enemy was in sight and it was learned that the crew of a Big Four train had been having some fun by placing torpedoes on the track. The joke would have been shorn of its proportions had the deputies been able to lay their hands on the rollicking knights of the brake.

A VISIT TO THE STRIKERS.

The advance guard of the strikers' army is camped on the farm of a Mr. Pope, about four miles west of the city. The reporter, in company with a deputy, visited the camp. About 100 men were found lying about the embers of dying camp fires or preparing breakfast, in which bread, bacon and coffee seemed to make up the bill of fare. Many of the band were foreigners—the Polack element predominating. Several Americans were with the outfit and talked freely concerning the objects of the invasion. Briefly the men's side of the case is as follows: They were convinced that the strike could never succeed while the Pana miners were at work. They declared that property should not be injured or men harmed if they persisted in working. When questioned about the train held up at Edinburg, half a dozen men in as many dialects assured the reporter that the hold-up was a myth, and eminated in the brain of a zealous correspondent. The men denied that they were armed, and certainly if they were provided with death-dealing implements they were carefully kept out of sight. The spokesman of the group added with with some earnestness that they had been told not to enter the city under pain of arrest, but declared they would go in when they got ready, and he would be pleased to see the force which could keep them out. To do the men justice, it must be admitted that they are not of the hobo class. All are respectably clad and seem to be deeply in earnest. That they will be able to accomplish anything is not believed by anyone. In the first place they will not be allowed to enter the town as an organized body and the men now at work are backed not only by armed force, but an overwhelming public sentiment.

A large number of miners from other points have applied for work during the last few days, among them several from Decatur who informed the operators that they wished to work at home but had been locked out by the proprietors of the home mine, and they begged for employment by which they could support their families. The men now at work who have some knowledge of the business are earning $3 and $4 per day, and are anxious to remain in close touch with the good fortune which has come their way. About 300 of the resident mining population are Polanders, and this class is making all the trouble. The American and English miners, with but very few exceptions, have remained at work.

TROUBLE FEARED.

The striking miners are hourly receiving reinforcements and claim that they will enter the city to-morrow. The mayor and the county authorities declare that the invasion will not be permitted. The county forces are made up of men who can be relied upon and there is no doubt that an attacking force would be roughly handled. It was whispered about that the sheriff will visit the strikers camp to-day and order the men to disperse under penalty of arrest, but the rumor could not be verified.

A SCARE.

Last night a man was discovered prowling about the grounds of the north shaft and was fired upon by one of the guards. The fellow scampered away unhurt, but the militia was routed out and the deputies massed in anticipation of the attack which did not come. A little later a Big Four brakeman fired three shots from a revolver at three negro tramps who were stealing a ride, and this caused another rush to arms.

CAUSE FOR FEAR.

The authorities feel more concern over the movements of the enemy in their midst than the outside dangers. It is stated that the Polack residents have been secretly buying arms and ammunition, which have been hidden away waiting for a favorable opportunity to make a break. These people are well acquainted with the properties of dynamite and they have secured quantities of the deadly explosive which they will not hesitate to use if an opportunity presents itself. It is also claimed that large numbers of these people have evaded the guards and are now safely hidden away in the houses of their friends. Should an outbreak occur it will be the signal for an uprising in the city. The citizens and soldiers are in a bad humor and any overt act of rebellion will receive swift and terrible punishment.

NEWSPAPERS BLAMED.

Many of the citizens profess to believe that the "sensational reports" published by the metropolitan press have had a great deal to do with bringing about the present state of affairs. On this point strikers and home guards agree, and the luckless correspondents who ply their vocation are forced to listen to some very plain talk. "Liars," "scandal-mongers," "dogs," are among the choice expressions used.

SITUATION THIS AFTERNOON

Rumor That the Military is to be Ordered Home To-Night.

[SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN.]

PANA, June 11, 3 p. m.—All quiet and nothing hot except the weather. Sheriff Johnson inclines to the opinion that he has no legal right to disperse the strikers at their camp, and there has been no effort in that direction. The strikers have made no attempt at trouble; they are quiet. There is a rumor at this hour that the military is to be ordered back to Chicago. The soldiers may leave Pana to-night.

WALKED ON THE WATER.

Thousands of People at Riverside Park to See Alphonso King.

Sunday afternoon a regular Fourth of July crowd in size assembled at Riverside Park to witness the aquatic entertainment. Prof. Alphonso King did all that was advertised. He walked a slack wire and performed balancing feats and then he walked on the river, using fish-shaped shoes 32 inches long, 8 inches wide and 9 inches deep, surrounded by fins which worked automatically. He walked at the rate of two miles an hour. The water bicycle was successfully ridden by Prof. King. The water bicycle consists of cylinders surmounted by a seat and wheels very similar to those of the ordinary bicycle. The wheel has small paddles on it, and when put in motion they strike the water and furnish the propelling power. The steering apparatus consists of a miniature wheel placed just in front of the seat, connected with the rudder by cords, and a speed of eight miles an hour is possible. At night red fire was used for illuminating purposes and Prof. King repeated the feats of the afternoon in the presence of another large crowd.

DICK IS IN CHICAGO.

Roland the Barber Takes His Rasors With Him.

Dick Roland, the East Main street barber, who made an unsuccessful attempt to stop breathing Friday last, left for Chicago Sunday night, taking his tools with him. Mrs. Roland is now in Chicago, and it is persumed that Dick has a consuming desire to see her. The exact purpose of the trip is not known. It may mean mischief.

Contest.

In the county court to-day the attorneys made arguments in the election contest case from Warrensburg. Attorney Johns is making the closing speech this afternoon.

Judge Nelson decided that Martin Albert was elected village president by 3 majority. Mr. Beall was given twenty days in which to take an appeal.

Two toreadors have been killed within a week and twice as many matadors seriously injured. The Spanish bull will gain greatly in popular respect outside of his native country if he keeps this thing up.

WILLIAM LEE, Boston's veteran publisher, began business in 1837. The favorite works at that time, and he sold many of them "on the road," were the Bible and the "Pirates' Own Book."

THE LABOR TROUBLE

At Cripple Creek, Col., Ended by Agreement.

THE FULL TERMS OF THE SETTLEMENT.

The Miners to Restore "Borrowed" Property and Give Up Their Arms—Gen. Brookes and the Militia to Garantee the Peace.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., June 10.—The labor difficulty in this district was settled last night by definite agreement, first, between Messrs. Hagersman, Moffat, and the small mine owners at Colorado Springs, and second between the county commissioner and Gen. Brooks, at a meeting held at military headquarters in Altman. The terms of this agreement are: First, that the deputies will be at once withdrawn from the camp; second, that the mine owners shall be given immediate and peaceable possession of their property; third, that the militia shall furnish protection equally to miners and the mines, fourth, that troops shall remain in the district at least thirty days and as much longer as the commanding officer may deem necessary to secure perfect smoothness in the operation of the mines: fifth, the miners are to deliver up to the commanding general all arms of their own and those taken from others, together with all personal property belonging to others, borrowed or otherwise acquired, and all material taken from mines: sixth, troops are to be stationed at Cripple Creek, Barry and Victor with headquarters at Altman; seventh, persons for whom the sheriff has warrants shall be atrested by Gen. Brooks and shall be turned over to the sheriff at Colorado Springs. The deputies broke camp at Victor yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and started at once for Colorado Springs, where they will disband.

The matter of opening the mines was also freely discussed, and most of the owners present were in favor of starting work as soon as possible and giving Gen. Brooks a full opportunity to show that he can and will perform what he has promised. The chances are, therefore, that some of the mines will be opened to-day, and unless Gov Waite changes his mind and sends new orders to Gen. Brooks the whole district will be in operation within a week.

GOV. WAITE MAD

Because the Deputies at Cripple Creek Act in a Manner to Provoke a Row.

DENVER, Col., June 10.—Gov. Waite was up early this morning and very mad that the deputies in Cripple Creek should continue to act in such a manner as to provoke a row.

"This thing must be brought to a head pretty soon," he declared.

At 1 o'clock he received a telephone message from Gen. Brooks, who said:

> The sheriff telephones me that I misunderstood him He did not state that he would not control them but that the condition of affairs might arise when he could not. I did not so understand him but I am willing to give him the benefit of the doubt His future conduct must decide my course I go to the Independence mine this morning as soon as I can leave to meet Commissioner Boynton and the sheriff, and will advise you of the result
>
> There was desultory firing between a detachment of deputies and some miners this morning between the Legal Tender and the Victor mines The firing soon ceased It was at long range If the mine owners do not take action to make the compromise effective the national guards will have to stay here all summer, and a collision can hardly be avoided

To this Gov. Waite replied:

> Report from Altman or Victor as soon as possible the result of the interview Let Brooks and Tarsney advise together and give me their opinion of the necessity of declaring martial law Command the sheriff to move his deputies to Cripple Creek, their position before he violated the agreement.

At 4 o'clock Gen. Tarsney, reported to the governor that the negotiations were then in progress to have the deputies withdrawn or disbanded He said the mine owners only wanted to be assured that they could work their mines on the agreement. If these terms can be made, which Tarsney thought certain, there would be, in his opinion no necessity for a more stringent military intervention. All the prisoners taken by the deputies were turned over to Gen. Brooks

Gov. Waite readily consented to all this, but added:

> The armed deputies must be removed or disbanded Do not slacken your vigilance one particle.

In regard to the shooting of the morning Gen Tarsney reported to the governor that it was due to the carelessness of the deputies They advanced up the canyon and a lot of miners had mistook them for an armed body strengthening their position and fired upon them. No casualties resulted.

STILL UNSETTLED.

Critical Condition of Affairs at Pana, Ill.

PANA, Ill., June 10.—The mining situation still remains in an unsettled condition Mounted patrols were placed around the city last night, and a number of guards at each coal shaft. One or two drunken outsiders were arrested. Beyond this no trouble occurred. A company of strikers numbering about 200 are camped on the Sibley farm, about two miles west of the city, and it is reliably stated that they are being furnished arms and food by sympathizers in this city. Several of the guards report local strikers trying to get out of the city during the night with arms for the invaders. About 500 members of the [illegible] regiment, of Chicago, with a [illegible] gun, arrived here on a special [illegible] train this morning at 6 Illinois Central followed at 9 o'clock o'clock, and [illegible] Clinton and Bloomby companies from [illegible] camp at the ington, and they are all [illegible] baseball park.

Crowds of strikers are located in timber and [illegible] the railroad bridge all around the city. A meeting of [illegible] miners will be held to-morrow, but what the result will be no one seems to know.

Scouts just come in report a company of strikers, numbering about 200 in camp about two miles east of town and about the same number just south of the fair grounds south of the city. A working miner's house in the north part of the city was stoned this morning about 3 o'clock presumingly by strikers. Home guards are out on duty again to-night.

A GRATUITOUS INSULT.

A Contribution, Solicited for the Relief of Striking Miners, Returned to the Donor.

MASSILLON, O., June 10.—A few days ago the miners' relief committee received from Gov. McKinley a contribution of $10, accompanied by this note:

> I am in receipt of yours of the 30th of May and responding thereto I most cheerfully contribute my mite to the fund for the relief of the miners who are unemployed. Wishing you success in the cause of relieving the necessities of the miners, I am, very truly yours

They emphatically refuse to accept a "mite" at the hand that insists on smiting them Your donation was solicited because the miners believed you at least in as much sympathy with them as the ordinary, every-day citizen, but since you have divested yourself of your covering, and your true character stands out in glaring colors, they abhor the contamination of your charity Your ambition in a political way, so far as the miners are concerned, is sure to be gratified henceforth Yours, etc.,

Still Continue to Transact Business.

MASSILLON, O., June 11.—In spite of efforts to burn bridges and destroy trains, the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railway is still transacting business and the coal blockade is broken. The military have control of the southern division, and anxiety now is for the territory between Massillon and Uhrichsville.

Early yesterday morning dynamite cartridges were exploded under one of the coal trains, but the fuses were too long and the explosions did not take place until the last car had passed. Links and pins were found wedged at one of the crossings. Between Uhrichsville and Midvale 300 miners captured two bridge watchmen and burned the structure, blocking the road four hours.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

(First Session.)

SENATE.

WASHINGTON June 9.—Progress was made by the senate to-day in the consideration of the tariff bill, such as no other day has witnessed during the seven weeks that it has been before the body for practical action No less than eight pages, comprising thirty-six paragraphs, were disposed of—the agricultural schedule being completed and schedule H—"Spirits wine and other beverages"—reached. At that point unanimous consent was asked and obtained that on Monday next the schedule be acted on under the five-minute rule, and, as that arrangement indicated that not much time would be spent over the schedule Mr. Harris who is in parliamentary charge of the bill consented to an early adjournment (at 5.10).

Early in the day there were some sharp passages of debate. In a speech accusing republican senators of filibustering against the bill, Mr Vest appealed to them if they wanted to kill the bill to "do it like men, and not assassinate it by parliamentary technicalities and delays

Mr Sherman declared that it was not delay that was causing trouble in the country but it was the fear of democratic action that was paralyzing industry He questioned whether republican senators would be excused for not resorting to the same means of killing the bill that democratic senators had resorted to a few years ago to kill the force bill And Mr Dolph proclaimed his willingness (if his republican associates would join him) to enter on a contest of physical endurance and prevent a final vote being now taken on the bill

After these menacing clouds had passed over, the political atmosphere cleared off and fair weather prevailed till the close of the day's session.

Mr Hoar's effort to secure the property of the late Senator Standford to the California university free from the government claims upon it for the debt of the Central Pacific Railroad Co took the shape to-day of a bill for that purpose which Mr Hoar introduced and had referred to the judiciary committee

HOUSE

The house spent three hours to-day in consideration of the Indian appropriation bill under the five-minute rule and passed over seven pages only in that time Most of the session was occupied in the discussion of three unavailing motions to amend 1 By Mr Wilson, so as to prohibit the appointment of an agent at an Indian agency in any state or territory other than the state or territory in which the appointee lives. 2. By Mr Pickler to modify the law authorizing the appointment of army officers as Indian agents 3. By Mr Bowers, to reduce the number of Indian inspectors from five to three

CRAZED WITH LIQUOR.

A Chicago Tanner Cuts Five Men with an Ax—Captured by a Plucky Policeman.

CHICAGO, June 11.—While crazed with liquor John Cane, a tanner, who lives at Thirty-sixth street and Ashland avenue, cut five men with an ax, almost killing a policeman who attempted to arrest the drunken man. His victims were taken home or to the county hospital.

The trouble began in Fisher's blacksmith shop. Cane getting into a quarrel with him, and drawing a long knife, stabbed Fisher several times in the side. Then he went home and induced Shultz, Riley and Drummond to return to the blacksmith shop. When his friends tried to prevent him Cane seized an ax and inflicted the wounds. The crazed would-be murderer kept everybody at a safe distance by flourishing his weapon.

When Officer Birmingham tackled him Cane fought viciously with the ax and finally laid the officer's head open.

Officer Burke came up while Cane was standing over his victims and terrifying the spectators and felled his man with a blow from his club.

The bloody affair brought an immense crowd to the scene and during the night the police station was surrounded by many who threatened to lynch the man.

RAISED THE PRICE.

Land Condemned for a National Park Near Chattanooga, Tenn.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 10.—Several months ago the government condemned twelve acres of land north of Sherman heights, upon which was located what were known as Sherman's old earthworks, and sought to purchase the property from Squire Ford, its owner, for the purpose of making a national park of the land, and it was intended to spend $250,000 on the work, but Squire Ford asked such an exorbitant price that a jury was named to assess the value.

The jury brought in an assessment of $400 per acre. This suited neither the owner or the government, and the jury was discharged. Another jury was then appointed, who went through the same tactics of examining property and surprised everybody Saturday by bringing in a report assessing value of the property at $825 per acre. An appeal will be taken to-day and Judge Key will try the case soon.

Failure of the Imperial Currency Commission.

A WRONGED WIFE'S AWFUL REVENGE.

To Prevent the Spreading of Disease by Immigrants—A Grand Sham Cavalry Attack by Night—Miscellaneous Notes.

Result of the Imperial Currency Commission.

BERLIN, June 10.—The imperial currency commission has adjourned, and its minutes and speeches are in the hands of the printer. The original intention of the commissioners was to keep their proceedings secret, but, with the government's approval, they eventually decided to make all the details public, and thus forestall the false reports which interested persons might spread. The commissioners who are friendly to silver have arranged for a cheap pamphlet, in which the whole record of their sittings will be set forth at great length.

The commissioners held twenty sittings of six hours each, yet they left the entire silver problem in Germany exactly as they found it. Only the most sanguine of them expect any practical result in the future from their labors. Dr. Arendt, the most ardent of the silver men, and a few of his closer followers contend that the German government has become convinced of the theoretical correctness of bimetallism, although it recognizes the impossibility of Germany's undertaking it single handed, the rehabilitation of silver. Arendt says he is convinced that the German silver mines must be abandoned if the present prices continue, and that with their abandonment will end much of the zinc and copper production on German soil.

Herr von Kardorff, who sat in the commission as the representative of the agrarians and their over-mortgaged constituents, professed in a published interview to be well satisfied with the commission's work. "When we met," he said, "the gold men were stronger, numerically than the bimetallists, but the latter carried a motion that no votes should be taken on any of the points to be discussed, the object of the inquiry being merely to provide the government with information concerning the currency question."

Herr von Kardorff said also that Dr. Bamberger, chief of the militant monometallists in Germany, came off second best in his contest with the silver men and suffered the mortification of hearing his arguments reduced to absurdity by Dr. Arendt and his sympathizers.

He believed that Count von Posadowsky, secretary of the imperial treasury, had been deeply impressed with the difficulties of the existing situation and had been convinced that some reform was unavoidable.

Director Russell, of the Discount company, who as a monometallist, is second in authority only to Bamberger, praises highly the impartiality of the government towards the investigation. He thinks that much good will result from the commission's labors, for, leaving all else out of consideration, he says the statistical information gathered by the commissioners will be most [illegible] whenever enactments as to the [illegible] of the empire shall be [illegible] Dr Arendt's elaborate [illegible] the issue of silver certificates by international agreement, Director Russell said was so dangerous and impractical that Arendt's own friends could not find the courage to support it and absented themselves from the sitting in which it was discussed.

"No practicable method of raising the value of silver was suggested in the commission," is Director Russell's general verdict, "and if Germany ever adopts a compromise in the direction of bimetallism, the motive will, in all probability, be political and diplomatic, rather than technical and economical."

The Vorwaerts, organ of the social democratic committee, after commenting on the commission's work, demands the appointment of an imperial labor commission to inquire into the condition of the unemployed and the causes of the prevalent distress among laborers. A Court Concert

Was given in the Marble hall of the new palace in Potsdam Saturday evening. Three hundred invitations to attend the entertainment had been sent and an enthusiastic audience was present. The singing was done by a chorus of 125 voices, led by Prof. Becher, who, at the close of the programme received from the emperor the Hohenzollern cross. The chorus won a double encore by singing the emperor's cantata in fine style. Four Dutch songs were part of the programme.

Heretical in Principle, but Allowable Under Special Conditions.

The pope's attitude toward cremation was announced on Wednesday in the Catholic diocesan council of Breisgau. His opinion is that cremation, while heretical in principle, may be allowed under special conditions which amount to a guarantee against public scandal. The Catholic clergy may officiate at services over bodies which are to cremated, but not at a crematorium.

Growing Eccentricity of Composer Wagner's Widow.

Frau Cocisma Wagner, of Bayreuth, widow of the composer, is causing much comment by her growing eccentricities. She recently composed five poems in honor of her son, Siegfried's dogs. On his birthday she gave a reception in the new music pavillion, built for him in the garden of the villa Wahmfried. After the guests had assembled she called in the dogs and had her five poems recited and sung for their benefit.

Emin Pasha's Affairs

Are fast becoming entangled beyond hope of extrication. The guardians of his little daughter Ferida and Emin's first wife, Emilie Leidschaft, have not reached an understanding, and the widow is about to move in a Prussian court to set aside Emin's formal adoption of Ferida for the reason that it is void before the Prussian law.

The Social Democrats and the Beer Boycott.

An army of social democratic spies are kept busy watching saloons suspected of smuggling in boycotted beer over night. Many are kept moving from saloon to saloon every day, concealing their relations to the social democrats while calling for boycotted beer. Any saloonkeeper serving this beer to them is forthwith denounced in the social democratic journals. The employers, however, are closing up their ranks, and the owner of one brewery has threatened to close his doors and quit business unless the boycott be abandoned. Sixteen firms have subscribed 30,000 marks for the benefit of saloonkeepers suffering most heavily from the boycott.

SEEMINGLY IMPOSSIBLE.

The Effort to Have the Tariff Law Go Into Effect June 1.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The fourth draft of the pending tariff bill which was laid before the senate for consideration in April last, names the 30th of June as the time when the law shall go into effect. That day ends the fiscal year, and throughout all the prolonged debate which has since occupied the senate, Mr. Jones and Mr. Harris have contended that they would begin collecting duties under the new law with the beginning of the new year.

The present condition of things hardly supports their belief. There are several very important schedules yet to be considered, to say nothing of matters that have been left open pending final action when the bill comes out of the committee stage and goes into the senate.

The spirit schedule will probably be completed to-day, and the debate on the cotton schedule will then begin. The wool schedule and the putting of raw wool on the free list—questions which will follow—are bound to call out protracted debate. Prolific subjects of discussion will also be found in the rates to be fixed on silks, papers, and in the sundries schedule, where coal will be found. Pearl buttons and gloves will be made the basis of considerable talk and the free list can hardly be disposed of in a day. Three great items in the free list—agricultural implements, lumber and raw wool—will be stubbornly fought for the purpose of making a record, but without hope of changing the result.

When the bill has been finally considered in committee of the whole and reported to the senate, the struggle over sugar will be renewed. Meanwhile the condition of appropriation bills is giving the democratic leaders uneasiness, and if they do not get through by June 30, joint resolutions extending the terms of the present appropriation bills will have been passed.

A Destructive Fire in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 11.—Fire last evening in the extensive wholesale district in the West Bottoms destroyed about $900,000 worth of property. The fire, which was of unknown origin, started in the large agricultural implement warehouse of Buford & George, and spread so rapidly that this establishment, together with the warehouse of the Keystone Implement Co., adjoining were totally destroyed. Two firemen were slightly injured by a falling floor. The insurance is $175,000.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Young People in the Sanctuaries on the Sabbath—Flowers.

Sunday was observed as Children's Day in many of the Decatur churches when special exercises were held.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Very pretty exercises were held at 10:45 a. m., conducted by Supt. W. A. Holman, with appropriate music by the orchestra, choir and school. The floral display was tasteful. Part of the 105th Psalm was read. Recitations were given by Ethel Wood, Clarence Snell, Effie Wayne, Dora Watson, Georgia Morgan, Amy Vermillion, and solos by Laurabel Wood, Sis Montgomery and Amy Hovey, and Sue Dimock directed the floral clock number, while Mr. Holman directed the colloquy and made the invocation. Dr. Cooley gave an address, and Mr. Saxton offered the closing prayer. Collection $20.02.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The children had a happy time, were entertained with special music by the choir and orchestra, and looked upon an elaborate display of flowers. The superintendent read the scripture lesson, and there were songs and choruses by the children of the school. Recitations, "Three Children's Days," by Ray Sawyer, Louie Cash and Johnnie Muncie; "The Master's Lilies," Edith Purnell; "The Child's World," Carrie Munson; "The Mother's Opportunity," Leah Sieberling. Rev. W. C. Miller delivered an address.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Children's Day exercises were held in the audience room at 10:30 a. m. There was a liberal display of flowers. Supt. Imboden was in charge, assisted by the teachers. In the choir loft were a large number of children, who sang special songs and the entire school took part in the singing, Dr. E. W. Moore gave an appropriate address and Mrs. Milton Johnson read a paper. In the afternoon Elsie Hill played a selection on the zither. The evening service was in charge of the young people, N. W. Woodford read the scripture lesson, Irene Nims read a paper, as did also D. A. Strader and Elmer K. Towl. The singing was by the choir and congregation. The attendance at all of the services was large. Rev. M. Hartzell will occupy the pulpit next Sunday, and Rev. D. F. Howe will be present.

GERMAN M. E. CHURCH.

In the morning the pastor, Rev. J. C. Rapp, preached to the children. In the afternoon Children's Day was especially observed and the following programme given:

At the evening service there was preaching by Rev. M. Roeder of St. Louis. He preached from Revelations vii, 9-10. His theme was "The home of the saved." He asked the great question, Where are you going to spend eternity? He impressed the need of the conversion of children and that Christ welcomed the little children. He encouraged christians to live a holy life and to make their robes white in the blood of the Lamb. He spoke of the final abode of those who are faithful add true unto the end.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

An immense audience attended Children's Day services at 2 p. m. A beautiful program entitled "The League of Honor," was observed. The following was the order of exercises:

The school then repeated the motto for the day:

> "A dime from every scholar;
> A dollar from all who can give it."

The collection followed.

The room was handsomely decorated with flowers, palms and other potted plants. It is the opinion of all that Grace M. E. Sunday school has never had a more appropriate and beautiful children's day service.

Great credit is due the committee on program—Mesdames W. F. Dennis, E. J. Strader and J. E. King.

The singing was superb, due to the thorough training of the school by Mrs. A. W. Conklin.

Prof. Towle presided at the pipe organ, and Miss Bertha Gray at the Sunday school organ.

Interesting exercises were also had at the Church of God and the Christian tabernacle.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

Services Conducted by Rev. W. W. Love of St. Louis.

Rev. W. W. Love, acting senior assistant Christ Church Cathedral, St. Louis, and who has received a call from St. John's church, conducted the services in that church yesterday. Mr. Love is a young man of fine ability and gentle manner, and was well liked by all who attended services at that church yesterday. It is not known that he will accept the call here as he has two other calls, one in Utah and the other in Montana, and before he decides the matter he will go to see the other parishes.

He preached a very beautiful sermon at St. John's in the morning and in the evening his sermon was full of good thought. Among other things he said: When we come to look on life, we must admit that no act in life is complete without a motive behind it. Take a boy as a student; he can never succeed unless there is a method in his study. He must have a purpose, an object to attain, and behind that purpose and method there must be enthusiasm. This is true in the boy's education. Take the boy's salvation, the highest of all education, and the same is true. Our private and public schools fit the boys and girls for this life's work, but to attain salvation, the greatest of all education is to fit the youth for eternal life where they will join the angels and all the holy ones and be with them throughout eternity. When we speak of this higher education, we often fail to make it comprehensive, when we talk of theology, we may mystify the mind, but when we talk of the proper relation of God to man in its simplicity, it can be understood. A man may say I am the product of my business or my books; that is to say I came forth of my books, or my business. Jesus Christ says "I came forth from the Father and I go to my Father." We are the children of God, and if we are the children of God we came forth from the Father and will return to Him. We look back in history and find that man was from the beginning inclined to evil. He got away from God. Man wanted to get back to God, but he was powerless to accomplish that wish. The victory came from the other side. God gave man His only begotten Son that "whosoever believed on Him should not perish but have everlasting life." He appeals to us and draws us to God. Do we not feel, as we look into each other's faces, that we have fallen short of our privileges; that there has been a lack of motive and enthusiasm? The locomotive engine on the track may be perfect in all its parts, and yet it is unable to move until water and fire are put into it and steam generated. It is useless without the motive power and energy. Our lives to be successful, must have behind them enthusiasm. That enthusiasm comes from the Holy Ghost. All the great men, the successful bible characters were inspired by the Holy Ghost. We cannot get back to God, and be useful in our lives, unless we have the inspiration and enthusiasm of the Holy Ghost. This inspiration we can all have. It has been promised to us freely. Let us pray God for this inspiration. In this way we can get back to God to whom we shall go to find our everlasting home.

A Trip to the Capital.

Sunday morning A. S. Robinson, pace maker, on a Victor, Henry Marcott, K. Hieckish, Bert Weaver, Ed Dimock, Paul Hieckish and Hugh Vaughan started on a trip to Springfield on bicycles, and the stayers covered the 44 miles in three hours and fifty-seven minutes. Paul left the party at Stevens creek and Hugh quit at Niantic. The others went on and put up at the Palace, where Col. Block and Will Henkle gave the visitors the best in the house, besides showing them through the Elks' club room, while capital city wheelmen gave the Decatur cyclers a whirl through the capital.
